WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5th 1862

GUNPOWDER PLOT AND INKERMAN.

To-day is one of the most famous days in the English Kalendar. For two centuries and a half it was associated with sectarian bigotry and rancourous traditions, until a happier era dawned upon us and the British arms received new lustre on a foreign field which eclipsed the waning glories of Gunpowder Plot. The Church of England has wisely expunged the memory of Guy Fawes from her book of Common Prayer, and the service of Religion is no longer tortured into an insult to millions of our fellow subjects. The increasing toleration of the age is herein remarkably manifested, for few festivities were so dear to the English people as tar-barrels and effigies on the 5th of November.

On this memorable date (1604) Guido Fawkes, Catesby, Percy and their accomplices, had ripened a diabolical plan to blow up the Houses of Parliament, in the same manner as Orsini, Pierri, and Radio, in our own day, attempted to destroy the French Emperor. In both cases the conspirators were animated by a blind fanaticism, the first religious, the second patriotic; and the Spanish adventurer, like the Italian martyr, hesitated not to sacrifice many parties, even innocent in his eyes, in the grand object of his plot. Posterity has condemned such machinations, and even those Catholics, who groaned so long under the Penal Laws, abhorred the name and principles of Guy Fawkes. In the days of Oates and Bedloe people were credulous enough to believe that the Papists had set fire to London, and the inscription on the Monument was a lasting though perjured testimony, but it has lately been erased as a lying record. Thus though the structure still remains, like the history of Guy Fawkes, the venom of bigotry has disappeared. All British subjects may now gaze with admiration on the Monument as they can also celebrate the 5th of November with equal spirit and patriotism.

Eight years have elapsed since the great and glorious battle of Inkerman, the most signal victory of the British arms since Waterloo. On that day the Turkish allies, for whom we wasted so much blood and treasure, fled ignominiously, leaving 8000 of our countrymen exposed to the terrible onslaught of 60,000 Russians. Many a valiant fellow met his death in that uneven fight; the stubborn Saxon, fearless Highlander and impetuous Celt stood together like a wall of granite under a shower of shot and shell which during two hours, decimated their ranks, but could not vanquish them.

France too has a right to celebrate this victory, for in the hour of greatest need, Marshal Bosquet dashed into the fray with 6000 picked troops, and with the stirring war-cry "Vive la France" drove the enemy off the field which he had almost counted as his own. It is difficult to decide which of the Allies reaped greater laurels on the occasion: if our men had not held their ground, with bull-dog tenacity, against such overpowering odds, the consequence must have been fatal to all, and if the French had not come to the rescue, few would have survived to tell the tale of the memorable 5th of November 1854.

Our countrymen of the three kingdoms have reason to rejoice to-day, for English, Irish and Scotch blood mingled in a common holocaust, to appease the hateful memories of the day, adding another garland to the haughty rostrum of the U. Kingdom, and affording a splendid subject to the poet, painter, or historian, of our military annals.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

If the gaucho who murdered the Englishman Davy, and cut poor Gilligan open in the abdomen, is not hung, it will not be for the want of a rope, or funds. Subscriptions are pouring in from all quarters, both north and south, and Governor Saavedra would do well to look to having the murderer caught, for we are determined to see the matter out. As we have said before, murders are committed in every country, and we are by no means surprised that they occur here. But, for the last few years, nearly every murderer has escaped. This will do no longer. If the judges and alcaldes will not arrest these gauchos, then Lynch law becomes a positive necessity. The catalogue of murders committed within the last few years, in which the criminals escaped, would fill our paper. We hope that a new leaf will be turned over now. If the present judges and alcaldes will not do their duty, then punish them, and make an example of a few: but we demand that Government take some steps in the matter, in order to restore confidence amongst foreigners in the camp.

In Montevideo there seems to be something going on in the country districts, which people cannot make out. An officer, with 100 armed soldiers, has left the Mount for—God knows where. Some think to Colonia, to put down the gauchos; whilst others say to Mercedes. There is, however, an uneasy feeling, which, although the papers try to deny, is apparent.

In Entre Rios, two foreigners have been murdered by the gauchos. We have no doubt Urquiza will be a little more active in hanging the murderers, than the authorities here: he has this reputation; and if he wants a rope, he knows well where to apply for it.

An Irish gentleman, arrived from San Juan, the other day was staggered with the intelligence, on entering San Luis, that an Englishman had been barbarously murdered, that morning, by a gaucho, and that, although the murderer was arrested, he was about to be liberated. Our countryman took the matter in hand, and gave the Governor a small piece of his mind, adding that, if the fellow was not immediately tried and executed, he would place the matter in proper hands. On arriving in this city, the Governor took the hint, and the fellow was tried and executed.

Our absent friend seems to take more interest in Italy than in Argentine matters. The French Consul-General may be a very good correspondent for the Tribuna, but we should like to hear from him in his official capacity. Forster says he must go over to France, if the Consul-General does not send him some diplomatic information.

THE AMERICAN WAR.

New York Letter.

The new postage currency was opened to the public to-day in Wall-street, at the Sub-Treasury Buildings. Only 5 dols. worth of 10. 25, and 50 notes were given to one person. The result was that a line of applicants commenced at the delivery desk, and went out into Wall-street, down to William, and then to Pine, and up to Nassau. It was a funny sight. Some of the shrewd dry goods dealers sent 50 of their clerks, errand boys, and labourers, to get each his five dollars' worth.

General Hunter is in town, and was a looker-on upon the above novel sight. He has a short leave of absence. It is stated by authority from him, that if the Government will furnish him with reinforcements on his return, he will draw off 100,000 of the labouring slaves of rebels—"Too late."

The rebels occupied Hagerstown, in Maryland, yesterday. It is said that they have no shoes on their feet and few bad caps. If so, they can get well supplied in Hagerstown, for that is quite a city, and filled with stores. On the other line the rebels are within 23 miles of Washington. There will be an end of all suspense before long.

Southern stocks were up to day at the Board of Brokers. Even that shrewd body is not startled at the approach of the rebel army into our neighbouring state of Pensylvania.

M'Clellan is in the field. He has under him Burnside and Reno. The former commands the right wing of his forces.

The danger that apparently menaces Baltimore has led the President to order Commodore Porter and [illegible] of his mortar vessels to anchor, and bring the guns to bear upon the city. The rebels will not take Baltimore at least until after they have captured Philadelphia.

The theatres and all other places of public amusement are coining money, and they will continue to make it, even should the city be captured by the enemy. There will be no shutting up.

A boiler explosion occurred yesterday in Singer and Co's sewing machine factory. Three persons were killed, and several wounded. The accident was caused by the carelessness of the engineman. He has been arrested, and will be tried for murder.

President Lincoln [illegible] the Washington [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] the C[illegible] and Emancipation Act [illegible].

The war meeting at New York on the 27th was an immense and very enthusiastic one. A number of persons were named [illegible] to obtain [illegible], [illegible] fortunes, lives, at [illegible] the [illegible] of New York [illegible] out the rebellion; [illegible] and other corporations to [illegible] the recruiting [illegible], and also to [illegible] their places of [illegible], as far as practicable, at one p.m., [illegible] the 13th of September, [illegible] the President to authorize General Corcoran to raise a legion of 20,000 men.

"WILL THE REBELS SUCCEED?" New York.—Col. [illegible] is of opinion that if the rebels can [illegible] Hagerstown as a base of operations, and our army at Washington is defeated or paralysed, Philadelphia and New York are anything but safe from the rebel armies. This seems incredible; but if our great army at Washington cannot be made available, anything is possible. A column of 50,000 veteran rebel trops could easily capture Philadelphia, and, once there, a march of 100 miles would bring them to the banks of the Hudson. The raw levies we could send to oppose them would be of very little account, and our hope of saving the metropolis would depend upon the gun boats to prevent a crossing or keep the opposite shore clear of rebel batteries. However, we apprehend the rebels will not have a chance to take either of the great cities of the Union. In the first place, we hope to hear of their being handsomely beaten in Maryland. They will not have Pope or M'Dowell to fight this time, and they will moreover have to meet our whole instead of only a portion of our army. Still, we repeat, if through their generalship, or our want of it, our Washington army should be destroyed or rendered useless, anything—even the capture of New York—is possible."

NEW YORK, August 30:—The New York Times says that if England, France and Russia would mediate on the basis of the South returning to the Union, doubtless the North would assent to any terms compatible with the national honour and essential to the protection and preservation of Southern rights: "Mediation on the basis of Southern independence," continues the New York Times, "is open hostility."

The Secessionists in St. Louis County Missouri, have been assessed by the Federal General Schofield in the sum of 500,000 dollars for the support of the [illegible] of the Federal militia.

San Francisco dates are to the 27th of August. Markets generally quiet. The new census of San Francisco gives a population of 90,000 against 63,000 last year. The city is in a very prosperous condition.

Alarming accounts have been received of the Indian troubles in the North-West. A general Indian war was thought to have commenced.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

The Emperor of Austria has confirmed a sentence of sixteen years, imprisonment in irons against a Garibaldian emissary named Viola, who had been arrested at Pesth, and tried by court-martial.

Prince Metternich, Austrian Ambassador in Paris, has left for his estate at Johannisberg, with his family.

The French Minister of Marine has just issued a circular recommending the captains of merchantmen to protect their vessels with lightning conductors.

The "Patrie" mentions a report that the Marquis de Lavalette will proceed to Biarritz, to have an interview with the Emperor.

The coming opera which Signor Pacini is preparing for La Scala, Milan, is to be called "Giovanni di Marana."

The new Turkish Minister of Finance has made a discovery which, coming from Constantinople, is almost miraculous: he has actually found a large quantity of gold and silver coin in the Turkish Minister's Exchequer. This treasure-trove, which is estimated at about, 1,500,000f., is supposed to have lain concealed for upwards of a century.—Galignani.

Education.

COLLEGE AT LOBOS

I have the honor to announce to my fellow countrymen and the public generally, that, on the 1st of December next, I will (D. V.) open the College of Lobos.

For many reasons I have been induced to select Lobos as a site for a College, in preference to Buenos Ayres. The student must be guarded against distraction, and placed, if possible, beyond the allurements which lead to crime. Hence it appears to me, that a healthy, secluded locality is best calculated to meet the views of parents, whose interest in the education and moral training of their sons must be intense indeed.

The fact of being able to afford education on more moderate terms in the country than in a city, could not be overlooked, and contributed not a little to influence my determination.

The Bosques of Lobos fully realise my ideal of a calm retreat for study.

Aided by an efficient staff of professors, I hope to raise up, in the Argentine republic, an educational establishment inferior to none of our European institutions. My countrymen in South America—of whom I justly feel proud—are entitled to a first-class education for their sons, and, with God's blessing, they shall have it.

I am not a new or untried man. My pretensions and claims on the confidence and support of the public, are based on well-attested facts. Not only am I a first-class Graduate, and Member of Convocation of the London University (now admitted to be the first in Europe), but for a period of 10 years I conducted one of the London University colleges, with distinguished success, and to which the records of that university bear testimony. Not many years ago, I also obtained ad eundem degrees in the University of Giessen, Hesse Darmstadt, Germany—a literary honour of which I may be proud. I may here remark that I spent many years of my early life in France, where I became intimately acquainted with the language and literature of that country.

Associated with me in this enterprise is Dr C. Collingwood Power, sizar, scholar and first-class honorman, both in classics and science, of Trinity College, Dublin. There are, besides, as assistants, two under-graduates of the London University.

The College House, two storeys high, with verandah in front, affording, as it does, ample accommodation for 100 boarders, is admirably suited for the purpose. Annexed to the college, are two spacious court yards for recreation, and in which ball courts and gymnastics shall be erected before the commencement of studies.

As the house is situated close to the parish church, the pupils will enjoy the blessing of attending a daily Mass whilst special religious instruction shall be given on days fixed for the purpose by the Rev Mr Smith, of Lobos. Thus we propose to ensure to the children entrusted to our care, religious and moral training, combined with a commercial, literary and scientific education of the highest order.

Since I reached the shore of South America, and witnessed the colossal fortunes which my countrymen have acquired by enterprise, energy and perseverance, I have often asked the question—"Why should not the sons of such men take their legitimate position in the learned professions, and in all the pursuits and callings in this country dependent on talent and acquirements?" They should, and must do so yet. To this end:—Educate, educate!

The silver samples which Mr Rickard placed on the Bolsa yesterday, created quite a sensation amongst both merchants and brokers. Not one in the crowd of spectators believed until then, that the mines of San Juan would ever produce so much silver, a general inquiry existed yesterday as to the company and directors &c. and it is pretty evident that any share which are at present unsubscribed for will be at once taken up. We understand that a large and influential meeting of the friends of this enterprize will shortly be held in this city when Mr Rickard will describe these mines and their apparently inexhaustible resources.

The wool market appears collapsed buyers refuse to purchase at the present figure. 4 carts of new wool sold in the plaza yesterday at $87. It is a fact worthy of notice that notwithstanding the improved condition of the wool this year, and the advance in Europe buyers wish to keep prices down to last year's figures, this is a manifest absurdity, and cannot be carried out.

The Montevideo Market.

The comestibles market is very flat and many cargoes have been sent on to Buenos Ayres, owing to the impossibility of realizing at anything like fair prices. Wines are looking down Carlon particularly. Genoese import is held firm, and sell well. From Havana little sugar has arrived and very little stock exists in hand of first hands. Havana coffee is dull however owing to the quantity of Brazilian on hand. Braz. brown sugar is 5[illegible] but the market is well supplied, as yet none of the new crop, has arrived. Farina is scarce and looked for.

Imports from the United States are not only firm but in demand, American tobacco is scarce and not to be found.

The wool market in Montevideo is as yet without quotations; there are at present more buyers than sellers, as estancieros dislike binding themselves by contracts.

The Saladeristas have not as yet commenced operations; the sales of jerked beef for the fortnight reach 30,500qqls. As yet no contracts have been made up the Rivers, for either hides or tallow.

The dry hide market is very flat, 80360 have been sold since the 14th Oct. the stock on hand is estimated at 42,700 of all stakes.

Music and Singing Master.

The undersigned has the honor to offer his services to the public as music master. Educated and trained by some of the best European masters, he confidently expects to advance and complete his pupils in the delightful art of singing, in a very short period. The system he adopts is that of the celebrated Garcia, the master of Malibran and La Grange, under whom he has studied for more than two years, and therefore he has had good opportunity to convince himself of the excellence of his system. He will also give lessons on the pianoforte and the theory of music. Persons desirous of taking such lessons will please apply at his residence No 113 Calle Reconquista.

Store open until 10 at night. Country stores supplied at wholesale: to such we sell, lienzos, warranted cotton handkerchiefs and other articles, at even a discount on our own retail prices: and to give an adequate idea of our prices, it is only necessary to say that, even in the present state of the market, we sell good strong lienzo at 3 dollars the yard, and good Bramante —viz, Barbour Barclay's—No 3, at 60 dollars the piece of 20 English yards. Always on hand, Gifford's No 1 calico and others of first class, straw hats, with broad brims, and silk lined, 18 dollars, and new goods of all sorts coming in so constantly as to render it impossible to advertise them in detail.
